

The Student Right-to-Know Act

The Student Right-to-Know Act was enacted in 1990 by federal law. The law requires institutions that receive Title IV HEA student financial aid to collect, report and/or disclose graduation rates for full-time, first-time, degree-seeking undergraduate students and students receiving athletically related student aid.

The data reflected in the Student Outcome section is the graduation/completion status of students who enrolled during the specified year and for whom 150% of the normal time-to-completion has elapsed. This information is provided as required by the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, and the Student Right-to-Know Act.
